THE HERITAGE SUITE EXPERIENCE

EXPLORE NYC THROUGH THE EYES OF AN ART HISTORIAN

The Heritage Suite weaves the storied past of The Chatwal into the vibrant architectural nuances of the rooms. The one-bedroom suite brings together carefully chosen artifacts, documents and art in honor of the hotel's unique Art Deco heritage. The celebration of history goes beyond the walls of the suite with a private tour of New York landmarks. Starting with the historical significance of the luxury hotel's Lamb's Club, an art historian provides detailed insight into the history of the Theater District and the Art Deco design principles still prevalent in landmark buildings like The Chrysler Building and Radio City Music Hall.

FLOWERS OF THE CHATWAL

WITH BILL FRAZER

What inspires you?

HORTICULTURIST AND FLORIST OF THE CHATWAL, NEW YORK, WILLIAM FRAZER: I believe what inspires me most and drives me is being the best I can be for my customers. I have been designing flowers now for so long (and still love it) that it all seems second nature to me, but knowing I did a beautiful job for someone always makes me fulfilled and what really inspires me most is knowing that I made another person smile and maybe made their day a little better.

How would you describe your style?

WILLIAM FRAZER: I believe my style has to first ask the question who and what are the flowers for? I have a very diverse clientele so my style has to flow from the person or entity I'm working with at the time. If I had to pinpoint one style I do the most though I would say my favorite would be a monochromatic or bi-color lush European design with its beauty in its elegance and simplicity.
